

Experiencing Commons and Communalisation

4th Dauphine Phenomenology Workshop (DPW)

September 25th 2020 #DPW2020

Final program

8.45-9.00: Welcome address by the convenors of the 4th Dauphine Phenomenology Workshop

9.00-10.00: Opening keynote, "Intersubjectivity, sociality, community" by Dan Zahavi (Copenhagen University) Click here to join the event from 8.30 AM: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/83617616227>

10.00-11.30: Parrallel sessions I & II (coordinated by Géraldine Paring, Paris School of Business and Elen Riot, Université de Reims)

Session I (Géraldine Paring, Paris School of Business)

Click here to join:

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/87932654799>

Session II (Elen Riot, Université de Reims)

Click here to join:

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84953120619>

Hannah Arendt and Simone Weil's perspectives on recent work transformation - Do citizens still share today work as a "common world"?

Lucie Chartouny, PSL Dauphine

The Mondragon Group: The art of evolving the communalization of the common good throughout history.

Hervé Grellier-Bidalun, PhD PSL Dauphine, Facultad de Ciencias Empresariales-Enpresagintza, Mondragon Unibertsitatea

Maintaining an affective common through events: a practice-based study of three collaborative communities

David Rozas, UCM, Bernhard Resch, Sydney University and Silvia Diaz-Molina, UCM

The Politics of Levinas' Phenomenology

Hugo Letiche Institut Mines: Telecom Business School & University of Leicester and Jean-Luc Moriceau Institut Mines Telecom Business School

|                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Technology and the Simultaneous Collapsing and Expanding of Organizational Space: A COVID-19 ExperienceAnouk Mukherjee, Université Paris-est Créteil | Integrating enfolded Prâxis, Practices, Phrônêsis and Sustainable Action for organising Common GoodsWendelin Küpers, Artem |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

11.30-12.30: Panel with artists (coordinated by Elen Riot, Université de Reims)

Uncommon Commons: When Artists Create Heterotopias.

Philippe Mairesse (UNESCO & ICN Business School) and Tim Gilman-Ševčík (NYU)

Click here to join this event: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/87308061009>

12.30-13.30: break

13.30-14.30: Panel about phenomenology and post-phenomenologies of work and management in the digital era. With Robin Holt (Copenhagen Business School), Wendelin Küpers (Artem), Elen Riot (Université de Reims) and François-Xavier de Vaujany (PSL, Université Paris-Dauphine)

Click here to join this event: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/86279877292>

14.30-16.30: Parallel sessions III & IV (coordinated by François-Xavier de Vaujany, PSL, Université Paris-Dauphine and Géraldine Paring, Paris School of Business)

|                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Session III (François-Xavier de Vaujany, PSL, Université Paris-Dauphine)Click here to join:https://us02web.zoom.us/j/81284752793 | Session IV (Géraldine Paring, Paris School of Business)Click here to join:https://us02web.zoom.us/j/81441119994 |
| THE SEA OF DREAMS. The controversies over the creation of marine natural parks and the limits of the comanagement of the Commons.Elen Riot, Université de Reims                      | Suffering in the commons: an enactive ethnography of socializing in collaborative spacesHélène Bussy-Socrate, Paris School of Business                              |

---

From Ordinary Capitalism to Ordinary Work: Beyond Commons as Extraordinary Experiences

François-Xavier de Vaujany, PSL,
Université Paris-Dauphine

Everyday life during lockdown according to a phenomenological view.

Andrea Resca, University of Castellanza –
LIUC, aresca@liuc.it

16.30-17.30: Concluding keynote with Jerome Melançon (Regina University) “The Dialectics of Mediation and Praxis: Thinking the Commons through Merleau-Ponty's Generality”

Click here to join this event: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/89439218618>

Contact: dauphinephenomenology@gmail.com

Co-chairs: Robin Holt (CBS), Géraldine Paring (Paris School of Business), Elen Riot (Université de Reims) et François-Xavier de Vaujany (PSL, Université Paris-Dauphine)